Empower your career at

Experience new levels of professional achievement with the world leader in display technology.

You like the fast pace of the high-tech industry. You want to join a company that produces top-quality products. And you want to work in a friendly, open environment. Consider becoming a part of NEC Display Solutions, a worldwide leader in visual display technology.

The North American sales and marketing subsidiary of NEC Corporation in Tokyo, Japan, NEC Display Solutions is supported by our parent company's world class research and development, engineering and manufacturing power.

The corporate sales and marketing headquarters of NEC Display Solutions is located in Itasca, Illinois. Less than 20 miles northwest of Chicago, it has easy access to main arteries I-355, I-290 and I-90. In addition to the growing staff at our headquarters, we have a well-equipped team of field sales located throughout the U.S., Canada and Latin America.

"You feel that you are at the heart of things and not just on the periphery. Everyone makes a difference to the organization, and that gives your work meaning."
