

QUEST INTERNATIONAL ACHIEVES SELECT INTEGRATOR™ STATUS FROM NEC DISPLAY SOLUTIONS

Irvine, CA – May, 2010 – Quest International, a leader in global IT solutions and supply chain services, announces the achievement of Select Integrator status by NEC Display Solutions, allowing Quest to integrate monitor solutions for users of NEC's professional desktop and large-screen LCDs.

Through this exceptional program, Quest customers will recognize numerous benefits from the selection of high-quality NEC LCD monitors, such as integration-friendly monitor design and protective panels, multiple touch technology options and shorter lead times resulting in delivery efficiencies.

To qualify as a Select Integrator, Quest had to meet a number of requirements, including approval of the integration process, quality control, facility and customer service, along with FCC and UL compliance for each unit.

“Quest International has enjoyed a successful relationship with NEC for many years and is thrilled to now offer Select Integrator services to our customer”, said Bill Greenblatt, Vice President of Sales for Quest.

NEC's high-quality displays allow for efficient integration of touch technologies, as well as protective glass, and ensure that the integration process will not alter the integrity of the product's original appearance or warranty. In addition to the Select Integrator program, Quest also integrates NEC displays for today's surgical environments with stainless steel enclosures, providing for built-in liquid ingress protection and sanitary cleaning.
